We have 4 areas

Header, Content Area, Side bar, Footer

Header

Few Comments on HEADER

The horizontal bar at the top top is missing, lets add that and some white space on top of it the content area and the header has no spacing, lets have it the menu popup is good now however let's have it like this (current one misses the last 3 tops,pamts and newsletter) the popup must look like this

The margins appear the same for me

 The menu links are opening a new page they must open on the content area instead. And they are not all going to point to the same page, they are pointing to different pages.

In c# you would have the page.master that all the pages must follow.

Newsfeed, connect to a CNN twitter account and only 3 top storie

Pages we need that are separate for the pages on menu and on the site:

The home (this is the one we have now) the logo will take you back here from anywhere.

All pages will display on the content area, and all pages will keep the header and the footer
